other of the night on the head, and the food for thought to law and living citizen. The time has come when the Bible injunction, "choose ye this day whom you will serve," applies with particular force. There can be no halfway business in this matter. He who is not for law and order is against it, and such sentiments as appeared in the Nugget yesterday morning cannot be construed otherwise than as an endorsement of the lawlessness that begot the attempted assassination of the mayor of Tombstone last Wednesday night. The people are not fools. They will mark these things down on the tablets of their memories where they cannot be erased by the sophistical tongues of aspiring politicians. The San Simon vote will not elect next November as it did last. This fact may as well be accepted now as later. The next vote polled in what is now Cochise county will be on the principles of safety to life and protection to property. It is well to remember these facts.

CHING TSAO JU, the new Chinese minister to this country, says the San Francisco Daily Exchange of Monday last, arrived by the O. & O. steamer Oceanic yesterday. The minister is accompanied by his wife, and has a retinue of twenty nine members. Ching has a reputation among his countrymen of being an astute diplomat, a scholar and a man of great wealth. He is about fifty-four years of age. The minister expresses himself as delighted with his trip and impressed with the city. The party will remain a week at least before going to Washington. It is understood that Ching is also minister to Peru and Spain.

THE Boston Economist of a late date very pertinently asks: "And what are we now waiting for? Certainly not new mining propositions. Results are what investors demand, and they certainly secure them in the $1,000,000 that are being paid out by the dividend-paying mines every month. Western mining interests are steadily progressing. Eastern mining shows steady growth. Stock manipulation is not mining for gold, silver or copper, and despite the present depression, mines having the ore body and business management grow in value, while the manipulator of the market leaves the street a dazed and disgruntled man.

THE Mining and Engineering Journal, in a very careful article on the probable future of the copper industry, closes as follows: "On the whole, the outlook for producers and miners is a promising one, and as the general situation is very good, the prospects of a rapid development seem very encouraging."

THE Standard mine of Bodie, Mono county, California, has paid fifty-two dividends in fifty-one consecutive months. Thirty of them were for $50,000 each, twenty for $75,000, and two for $150,000 each. This makes a grand total of $3,300,000. This is a splendid record for the mine.

SLOW UP.

Big! But Don't Come up to Ewing. On Saturday evening last the houses of this place were terribly shaken up by a blast in the American mine, in which 27,500 pounds of black powder were utilized. The blast did immense execution. It tossed up the whole earth 120 feet in width, and 100 in length into the hill with a bank face of over 100 feet. The mine is now run by the Yuba Tunnel Gold Mining Company, a corporation. To prepare for this immense blast a drift was run into the hill as near bedrock as possible 100 feet; at the end of the drift other drifts were run each way 60 feet, making 220 feet in all. Into these side drifts the powder was placed and the main drift tamped. It was all exploded in an instant of time.—San Juan Times, Nov. 19.

Why, the above is nothing; just think of what some of our eastern experts have done. Why, one alone, Gen. Ewing, blew the State Lines up about $10,000,000, and the Robinson Con. $3,000,000.—N. Y. Daily Stock Report.

R. C. Brown, Esq., of the Citizen, was in Tombstone yesterday. He returned by last night's stage to Tucson.

The Guitau Trial.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Guitau was called of Corkhill this morning, and the court with, "To put in looking over to vacant seats with a shackle, I understand Gen. Reynolds is sick this morning. I wonder if Corkhill is. I guess they got more than they wanted yesterday. It is about time for Corkhill to get sick and stay sick."

George D. Barnard, deputy clerk of the Supreme court of King's county, New York, took the stand to prove the divorce of Annie J. Guitau from the prisoner. Witness presented the record of the court and the order of the judge for his witness's attendance here.

Seville objected to the admission of the papers upon the ground that they were not certified to by the clerk of the court, as required by an act of congress.

The court overruled the objection and admitted the testimony. Very greatly to the disgust and displeasure of Guitau, Mrs. Anne J. Dunniger, the prisoner's former wife, was called to the stand, and Guitau raved like a madman and appealed in vain to the court not to permit the witness to testify. He threatened to rip her whole character if she attempted to testify against him, and declared repeatedly that it was an infamous shame on the part of Corkhill to drag her into the case. Much to the surprise of all Corkhill asked witness only a few questions. Her statement in reply was, "I never saw any signs of insanity in the prisoner while I lived with him as his wife."

Dr. Francis B. Loring, of Washington, physician in charge of the Eye and Ear Infirmary, made an examination of Guitau's eye soon after his arrest, and did not find an indication of disease of the brain.

Dr. McLane Hamilton, of New York, had made diseases of the mind and nervous diseases a special study for the past nine years. Witness had made three examinations of the prisoner. He found from accurate measurements that the prisoner had a symmetrical and exceedingly well-shaped head. Witness found no external evidence of any mental or physical disease on the prisoner. He considered him an eccentric man.

Another Lawyer for Guitau.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Times Washington special: Jeff Chandler, the well known criminal lawyer of St. Louis, has been retained as associate counsel for Guitau. When the testimony is all in he will make the argument, and says he will either obtain a verdict of acquittal on the ground of insanity or divide the jury.

Guitau's Threat.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Times Pittsburgh special: John F. Foster has been summoned to Washington as a witness against Guitau. He will testify that he encountered the assassin last June in Washington. Guitau said he was to be appointed consul to Paris, adding, "If I don't get that appointment there will be more excitement here than there has been since 1865."

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—SENATE.—The president pro tem. was authorized to fill vacancies occasioned by recent changes in committee memberships and other like vacancies previously existing.

A bill introduced and referred to authorize the erection of a statue of Chief Justice Marshall by Camden.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—HOUSE.—The speaker announced the following as the special committee on the expenses attending the illness and burial of President Garfield: Taylor, Pound, Cox of New York, Joyce, Lefevre, Belford, Blackburn, Page, Springer, O'Neill and Shelley.

Robinson of New York rose to a question of privilege. He stated he had a resolution he desired to offer. During the recess of congress an officer of this government, connected with the state department, had usurped the privileges of the house.

The speaker.—The gentleman has already disclosed his desires to proceed to business.

Robinson.—This question involving the privileges of the house—

Speaker.—It is not a matter in relation to any member of the house.

Robinson.—It relates to the whole house. It is a usurpation by a department of this government. It involves the imprisonment of our citizens abroad. We can get nothing into this congress. The rights of our citizens cannot be heard. [Loud cries of "Order."] I will not press it now, but you will hear from me again.

Under the call of states, bills were introduced by J. Willetts, to regulate suffrages in territories and to fix certain qualifications for office; also to provide for oaths for jurors in trials for bigamy in territories; also relative to bigamy and proof thereof; also to provide for the registration of voters in Utah territory; also granting a pension to the father of the late General Custer.

The house adopted a resolution for a recess from Dec. 21st to Jan. 5th.

Blaine to be Orator.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The joint senate and house committees appointed to arrange for the memorial ceremonies in honor of President Garfield, decided today to invite Secretary Blaine to deliver a eulogy before both branches of congress, in the hall of the house of representatives on some day yet to be determined.

Presidential Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The president has nominated Benj. Harris Brewster of Pennsylvania attorney-general of the United States; Nathaniel M. Adams, pension agent at St. Louis.

The president has nominated as Indian agent, Henry J. Armstrong, Crow agency, Montana; A. L. Cook, Fort Hall agency, Idaho; Jesse A. Fleming, Moquis Pueblo agency, Arizona.

The Canal Project and the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Secretary Blaine's instructions to Minister Lowell at London relative to the desired modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, were sent to Congress today. In effect they claim that the United States should have control of the isthmus canal; that the treaty forbids us to fortify or defend it by military force; that the naval power of England would enable her at short notice to take possession of both ends of the canal, to the detriment of our commerce. The treaty should therefore be modified on the following basis: The clause forbidding the United States to fortify and control the canal in connection with the country in which it is located, should be cancelled; the clause in which the United States and Great Britain agree to make treaty stipulations for the joint protection of the canal has never been perfected, and should be declared obsolete; the clause defining the distance from either end of the canal at which captures on the high seas may be made by either power was left incomplete, and has never been determined; the distance could be determined on a liberal basis whenever the canal is completed. The letter suggests that the intimate friendly relations existing between the two nations render the present an opportune moment to consider the question of modification.

Investigating Sherman.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Col. R. J. Hinton, editor of the Washington Sunday Gazette, testified before the senate committee, examining the subject, that he had no personal knowledge of the correctness of charges made in his paper affecting the integrity of Sherman; he believed most of them could be substantiated; some might be disproved. He suggested that the committee consider the Melrose report, and summon Gillfillan, Deputy Tarbell, Chief Clerk Power, Pitney, Lampher and others.

Cabinet Communications.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The Graphic's Washington correspondent says: The name of ex-Senator Howe is again canvassed for a place in the cabinet, and his friends say the president has announced his intention to give him a place, although he does not say which. His supporters claim he will be made postmaster-general. Chauncey I. Filley's friends are nothing daunted, however, despite the positiveness of Howe's backers. It is thought that California will not get any place at all unless she accepts General Edwin Beale. It is understood that he was offered Beale, but repudiated him and pressed Sargeant. Beale, it is claimed, will be appointed secretary of the navy.

Committee Positions of the Pacific Coast Senators.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—By means of a number of individual changes, quietly effected yesterday and today, the membership of senate committees has been finally established for the present session, and Pacific coast senators have been provided with committee positions as follows, the republicans of course obtaining the greater number, because the organization of the senate was controlled by their party: Miller is made chairman of the committee on revision of the laws, and member of the committees on foreign relations, naval affairs, mines and mining, and epidemic diseases. Farley is assigned to three important committees, those of commerce, naval affairs, and post-offices and post roads. Jones of Nevada holds positions on the finance, commerce, mines and mining, civil service, and contingent expenses committees; he is chairman of the last named committee and second on commerce. Fair is a member of the committee on mines and mining, claims, and education and labor. Grover serves on public lands, railroads, and military affairs; and Slater holds places on Indian affairs, agriculture, and pensions. Hill of Colorado is chairman of mines and mining, and a member of four other committees, namely, public lands, post-offices and post roads, civil service, and Nicaragua claims.

Trouble on the Frontier.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Times San Antonio, Tex., special: Great disorder is reported across the Rio Grande. Americans are being murdered daily, and no protection is assured. Many white men employed on the International and Mexican extensions are returning to Texas. It is also said the Mexican authorities have ordered the railroad companies not to pay more than 75 cents per day for hands. They have been paying $1, and hundreds have left the haciendas to work on the railroad. The owners of haciendas took means to stop this.

The International road has reached the Rio Grande at Laredo, and the last spike was driven at 12 o'clock today.

Railroad Transfer.

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 16.—The stockholders of the Dallas and Wichita Railroad, at their annual meeting, transferred the road to the Missouri Kansas.

Criminal Calendar.

RALPH, N. C., Dec. 16.—The sentence of Wm. H. Van has been commuted. He was to have been hanged today.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Dec. 16.—One of the most brutal murders ever known in this section was perpetrated Wednesday night one mile north of here. The victims are an old farmer, Wm. Supplis, and his wife. The supposed murderer is one Flanagan, who is alleged to be cranky. Supplis's head was severed from his body, and both were badly mutilated.

Destructive Typhoon.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Special from London: Reports have just been received that a terrible typhoon visited the country around Hongkong and Folley, in China, raising the waters of the sea and driving them inland four miles. One town was entirely submerged and swept away with all its inhabitants, numbering three thousand.

The Vienna Calamity.

VIENNA, Dec. 16.—Some sensation has been caused by Baker's statement that on escaping from the burning theater he purchased three candles and hastened back in the hope of saving some sufferers, but the police arrested him and refused to let him enter the building.
